A TEMPORARY RETURN

Jesse James and his freebooters have come back. But now they ride in motor cars, not on the back of horses, carrying machine guns, instead of pistols, and use their hold-ups in settled and organized parts of the United States, instead of along lonely trails and in pioneer camps in the wilderness.

A band of them swooped down on a Kansas town, held the place for four hours, trundled off the town safe on a truck and left sixteen citizens locked up in the jail. All very spectacular, no doubt, and quite in line with the traditions of the fraternity.

But it can't last. Like the kidnapper, the bandit will have to vary his operation of more than 100,000,000 people, all of whom have lives they value, and most of whom have more or less property they intend to keep, cannot be dominated permanently by robbers. The United States is not China.

MEN OR MONEY?

The Government of the United States is spending billions of dollars of public money to set men at work. The Government of Canada is "firing" fifteen hundred employees in order to cut $14,000,000 off the payroll.

If the times were normal, of course the one sensible thing to do would be to dismiss surplus civil servants. Which, in the way, is what the Government does do—not when times are normal. And in the circumstances President Roosevelt would not be wasting public money to create unnecessary employment.

The times are not normal. They are abnormally abnormal. And the most serious and most dangerous problem that confronts the governments of these two countries is the problem presented by millions of idle men who must find work at whatever price they can earn a living.

With a problem of that kind demanding solution, and growing in gravity as the solution is delayed, which is the more hopeful, it is up to every government to adopt; that of spending public money to set men at work, or that of depriving men of work in order to save money?

THE REAL "CAPITAL LEVY"

The gold standard fetish has collapsed, but it still has some impotent champions, just as those who are consoling themselves by saying the heretics are not only discrediting itself, and is not really accomplishing anything by inflating currencies. Thus the Montreal Star suggests that, "With a dollar worth only 60 cents in gold, what at 60 cents, really, is another wheat at 54 cents under the old dollar?"

But it is. It pays 60 cents worth of mortgage debt or tax arrears. That is important to the farmer who has the debts to pay, to the corporation which has the responsibility that gets the tax arrears, or to the creditor who collects the 60 cents on his mortgage. With wheat at 54 cents, neither tax arrears nor mortgage debts were being paid, or could be paid, at 60 cents some payment is possible. That something gained, alike by the man who owes and by the man or the community that controls him.

The bold fact, the Star thinks, is that "The depreciation of the dollar, when it comes, will be simply a method of making a capital levy." Those who are paid, either for work or for debts, will get fewer grains of gold than they did when they got the dollar were at par in gold. All very well, if it was gold the creditors and the sellers wanted. But it isn't. The things they want are dollars. Dollars will buy, any kind of dollars, and which kind will get during the last three or four years because they could not get the dollars.

Quite true, those who receive depreciation will not be able to buy so much with them as they did when bought with gold dollars when commodity prices were down. But they will be able to buy more than they were able to buy when dollars were at par.

In proportion, commodity values measured in dollars is to make a "capital levy," what about the "capital levy?" that has been made during the last four years? Properly ranged, that period have dropped to a fraction of the time. Farms and town houses, bought on time, are not worth the balance of the payments due. Securities bought for one hundred dollars have been sold for ten.

That was when, where and how the rate capital levied most, and on a scale that the government even admitted directly. The hoarder of gold was enriched by the wholesale and unlimited deflation of the value of everything else.

The deflation of the dollar, however, is supposed to be a means of getting the "earned increment" that was given to gold dollars by the downward rush of commodity and property values. So long as the dollar is only deflated enough to restore its value to the former level, the owner of dollars will not be harmed nor any part of his capital destroyed.

The levy on invested capital has already been paid in, results in its severity, and payment in the consequences. Reducing the swollen value of the dollar would only prevent the actual working capital of the country being grabbed by the holder of idle money.

There were the other two hundred and fifty cars of hay at Montreal awaiting shipment to England, and the C.P.R. has refused to handle any more until cars are cleared. If it pays to send hay to England to be converted into beef there, it would surely be more profitable to feed it on this side of the sea and pay freight on the beef only.

Poems That Live

DESTINY

Why each is striving from of old,
To love more deeply than he can?
Still would be true yet still grows cold?
—Ask of the Powers that sport with man!

A heart of ice, a soul of fire.
And buried him on Life's life.

JAPANESE WHEAT EXPORTS

The annual production of about 33,000,000 bushels of domestic wheat is not sufficient to meet the requirements of the Japanese market, says A. Lansey, Commercial Secretary in Tokyo, in the Commercial Intelligence Journal. Owing to the high protein content and excellent milling qualities of Canadian hard wheat, the Japanese are turning to Canada for their supplies. The export of wheat and other cereals to Japan in 1912 was 2,000,000 bushels, while in 1913 it was 10,000,000 bushels. The export of wheat in the years 1912, 1913 and 1914 being 824,712 and 26.5 per cent respectively. Canada is second in importance to Australia, with percentages for these years of 16.21 and 27 respectively, followed by the United States, 16.73 and 42.5 for the same years. In the January/May period of 1913 Australia supplied 90 per cent; Canada 19.6 and the United States 0.4 per cent of imports totaling 30,928 tons.

From 1908 to 1912 there have been down by about three-quarters.

This is due entirely to the very large imports of Australian wheat marketed under the influence of a favorable exchange rate.

THE STEELS OF SIMCOE

On this date in 1861, there took place the murder of Captain James Steels, one of the best known families of the county of Simcoe, Ontario. It was indeed a distinguished family, both in England and in Canada. The father, Captain James Steels, was a sailor, the subject of this article, it gave to the British army three brothers, who fought in the Peninsular and Waterloo wars, one of whom, Captain James Steels, was a hero in the battle of the Allies on the entry of the Allies into Paris after the victory of Waterloo. An uncle fought with Wolfe at Quebec. In later years, Captain James Steels, the famous Sam B. Steels, was an original of the Mounted Police in 1873, commanded cavalry in the campaign in Saskatchewan in 1885, and commanded a company of Mounties in 1886. Captain Steels took command and saved the ship and passengers after the steamer "Winnipeg" was driven ashore by a storm.

One of the incidents of his first election, which, of course, took place in 1861, was the arrival over the ice from Thorold to 11th Hussars on the entry of the Allies into Paris after the victory of Waterloo. An uncle fought with Wolfe at Quebec. In later years, Captain James Steels, the famous Sam B. Captain Steels took command and saved the ship and passengers after the steamer "Winnipeg" was driven ashore by a storm.

—In 1861, lands were offered in Canada to British soldiers and their sons. His son, left for Canada in the ship "Branches." She was caught in the ice and threatened by an American crew, but Captain Steels, who had been a sailor, came to the rescue, and the crew were driven ashore by a storm.

A mine room, made of card-board and paper, was constructed complete to a tiny clock, candles and picture of tulips, attracted much attention. A display of oil painting and water-color designing was done by Irene Smith, F. H. Hegler, Catherine Clark, G. E. Black, Arrowsmith and M. V. Vaughan. Ada Durand and Bellie Clark.

One could spend columns discussing so many there were that graced the scene of loneliness. The slender wife of a military official and the stout wife of a lumberman were among the loveliest.

Visitors to the city took advantage of the opportunity to visit the conservatory of Government House, and to enjoy many lovely evenings.

Many gentlemen of great distinction were present, and the occasion was most impressive for the occasion.

There were military uniforms in the galleries and blue and white uniforms of the naval cadets.

An interesting engagement announced by the city was that of Ruth Beverley Robertson, B.S., daughter of Dr. Frank H. Petrie, Ottawa, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Robertson, and of Captain, entertained at their home on Friday evening in honor of Mr. R. Symington and Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Black.
